

2 Series - in 1 Box

IN 3-D!

In 1954, Dr. Fredric Wertham led a public campaign to outlaw horror comics because they were, in effect, too frightening. Congress held hearings and Tales From The Crypt, The Haunt of Fear, Weird Science, and hundreds of horror titles were shutdown by the resulting "Comics Code Authority." But the spirit of great art and ghastly ghost tales isn't dead. It has returned—on cardboard—with a vengeance!

Monsterwax presents Urban Legends and Shock Stories, a collection of classic horror stories from urban lore, as well as new tales of murderers, maniacs, and monsters! That's two great art series for the price of one, plus a sketch card in every box, a prize card in every other box, and an incredible 3D card in every single pack! (51 different!) Limited to just 1,000 numbered boxes, this is one series you don't want to miss! Check out the website for more info about the cards you'll crave from the grave!
